AN OBJECT LESSON IN DIRECT NOMINATION.

There is a strong demand for a primary law in Oregon, and the next leg lalature is liable to pass one. While they are at it, they might as well give the people a direct voice in the nom ination of candidates. That is the law of many states, and does away with the log-rolling and trading and corruption growing out of the present sys

We print below a list of the aspirants for nomination in this state and sounty. Under direct nomination such a list on the Australian ballot plan would be submitted to the voter at the primary, and each Republican would make his mark to indicate his choice among the candidates.

To revive a person who has fainted it is necessary, therefore, to alter this condition as quickly as possible. In order to do this the individual should be laid quite flat, the head on a level with the body, so that the feebly acting heart will not have to propel the blood upward. The neck and chest should be exposed, frosh air admitted freely, water sprinkled on the face and niating vapors, such as amusonia held at intervals to the nostrils. When there is difficulty in restoring animation, friction over the region of the heart with the hand or a rough cloth should be applied vigorously.
